HONGKONG, MARCH 13th, 1912.

From time to time the weight of foreign criticism directed against Japan and some defects in her newly adopted coat of Western armour, and forgetful of the fact that these defects are not of Japanese creation, points to them as evidence of the unregenerate character of the Japanese people. These defects are mostly found in the judicial system. There is no getting away from the fact that they are defects, nor are they made better by comparing them with similar defects in the judicial systems of the West from which the Japanese system was drawn. But it may be asked why those who contend that the Japanese are but the common clay from which humanity is moulded all the world over, should, contradicting themselves, claim that the Japanese should display the highest type of rectitude in matters where Western countries lag behind? We are aware that progress is only accomplished by the establishment of an ideal to be continually aimed at, however far short may fall the practical results, but, human nature being what it is, it may be asked whether the ideal would not be better recommended by being urged in tones of sweet reasonableness rather than in tones of anger? The judicial system of Japan is defective so in British eyes is that of France, that of Germany (witness the comments on the recent trial of Captain Tamm), that of Spain and even that of the United States, which, in spite of its British foundation, has acquired a Continental tone. But if representatives of these countries, which are selected merely at random, were confronted with sharp criticism of their judicial procedure as an outrage on humanity they might be expected to retaliate in equal terms. Whether Japan did well to adopt the Continental form of judicial procedure is a moot question. Probably it was adopted as best fitted to the Japanese character, without any thought being given to its practical working, and it would be idle to deny that, while open to abuse, it has its advantages, the chief of which is that it enables the ends of justice to be met by avoiding publicity during the initial stages of investigation. At the same time it has to be acknowledged that by the very secrecy of the proceedings it is liable to lead to charges which are easier to make than to disprove, and which injure Japan's credit abroad. Thus in the case of the arrests in connection with the alleged conspiracy in Korea, charges have already been made against the police officials of extracting confessions by torture. There is no proof of this save the assertion of a correspondent, who would certainly not be able to obtain access to the accused men, but the point is that as long as secret examinations form the initial stage of judicial investigations such charges are likely to be made. There are, of course, many forms of torture. The mental torture applied in the French Courts in the reconstruction of a crime may be as exquisite as physical torture. Prisoners also may be subjected to rather rough usage by minor police officials, who, it has to be remembered, do not attain rectitude by merely putting on a uniform. The Nagasaki Press recently stated that when the Minister of Justice last visited Nagasaki he was presented with a memorial drawn up by barristers protesting against the use of torture by the police. This statement was no doubt made on good authority. The police of all countries are liable to exceed the powers entrusted to them, and the Japanese policemen, who receive a very small salary, certainly cannot pretend to rank higher than those of other lands. But that anything like physical torture in the proper sense of the word is uniformly used by the Japanese police may be dismissed as absurd. Such deeds cannot be hidden for long; they cannot be consistently practised without coming to light with a persistence sufficient to force investigation. The Japanese police have very extensive powers—too extensive perhaps—and can exercise no doubt a kind of tyranny over humbler members of the community who come into their clutches; but the Japanese have a certain point beyond which their submission to authority is apt to break loose. It has to be admitted that circumstances are rather different in Korea, where not only have the police officials even more power than in Japan, but are in control of a more submissive people. There is, therefore, all the more temptation to the police to overstep their authority. Thus, it is stated on good authority that the arrests in Korea in connection with the alleged conspiracy were made without any warrants and that the persons arrested were kept in ignorance of the charge against them. The explanation of the Japanese authorities would no doubt be that the men were not arrested but were merely taken to the police station to be questioned. Such a lax system of procedure is one of the abuses which are apt to creep in when the preliminary investigations are conducted in secret, and in the absence of any solid body of public opinion in Korea to formulate a protest such abuses will no doubt continue. This is to be regretted, not only for the sake of the Koreans, but also for the Japanese, since excesses in authority are apt to grow with use. In Japan already the police constantly show a disposition to overstep their legal powers. How much more will this be the case when they are confronted, as in Korea, with a subject people? The injury done to Japan's credit abroad by the secrecy of her initial judicial procedure has also to be considered. It is true the same argument may be used against France and Germany and other Continental countries, but hardly with the same weight. Countries with established reputations may do things which countries whose reputations are only half won cannot afford. Nor is the growth of the Socialist element in Germany and France exactly inspiring for Japan, where a stern war is waged against Socialism in any act or form. This, however, is a side issue. What is most important is that Japan should give no cause for criticism of her internal administration, more especially when it is applied to a newly-annexed territory.

Over 7,000 Chinese visited the Museum at the City Hall last week.

Two torpedo-boat destroyers left Hongkong at midnight on Monday for Canton.

Twelve cases of bubonic plague were notified in the Colony last week, all being Chinese fatal cases.

Two dead bodies were picked up in the Eastern District on Monday. Death was due in both cases to natural causes.

A Chinese eating-house keeper was at the Magistracy yesterday fined $10 for allowing opium to be smoked on his premises at Hunghom.

The number of cases of small-pox reported in the Colony last week was 55—3 British, 1 American, and 51 Chinese. The deaths numbered 43.

The first Gymkhana meeting arranged this season by the Hongkong Gymkhana Club is fixed for April 13th, and a programme of six events has just been issued.

In our report of the opening of the University it was stated that Mr. J. H. N. Mody occupied a seat on the right of His Excellency. It should have been Mr. N. H. N. Mody.

At the Magistracy yesterday a Chinese chauffeur employed by Mr. T. Nicholls, of the Exile Garage, was fined $2 for not exhibiting a rear light on the car which he was driving.

Among the passengers by the Atsuta-Maru from London yesterday were Mr. A. E. Carleton, U.S. Vice-Consul at Hongkong, Mr. L. N. Leefe, and Mr. F. C. Wilford, who have been on leave.

The Japanese servant employed by Mr. Jackson, a commercial traveller residing in a Japanese hotel on Connaught Road, has reported to the police that on Tuesday morning while in his room two Chinese burst into the room, bound and gagged him and then made off with a quantity of his employer's effects.

The tiger is still at large. It was seen three times during the past week. On one occasion it was seen on the road to Stanley by two chair coolies and a woman. The woman was so alarmed that she blew a police whistle which she carried. "Stripes" took little notice but went on his way uphill. The party who went out on Sunday in the hope of discovering him saw him emerge from a ravine near Tytam, but they were too far off to get a shot at him.

A funny incident has been reported to the police. On Sunday morning a servant in the employ of Mr. d'Almada, residing at 29, Robinson Road, went to the out-house to get coal and was surprised to find a huge sow in possession. It had forced its way in by bursting the door, and would not be driven out. The police had to send up four men, who with ropes and a basket managed to secure and convey it to Wanchai, where it awaits an owner.

THE DOUBLE SPY.

HIS WARNING TO HIS WIFE.

The case of Verrus, or Rue, the double-dealing spy who caused Mr. Bertrand Stewart to be sentenced to 34 years' detention in a German fortress, grows more extraordinary as it is investigated, says a London paper. There are now indications that he may be identical with the employer of the German spy Grosse, who was sentenced for espionage at Portsmouth on Friday last.

A warning has come during the past few days from Rue to his wife, living in London, that if she sets foot in Germany her arrest will be brought about on the charge that she is a British spy. Rue declares he has himself laid information against her. His threat in this matter is based upon the part that Mme. Rue was unwittingly made play by her husband, when staying with him at Kiel and Bremen.

His recent communications have come from Hamburg, where he receives letters in the name of Peterson (P). In this connection it is at least a remarkable coincidence that the employer of the Portsmouth spy Grosse signed his instructions "R. H. Peterson," and gave as his address "Poste Restante, Hamburg," where he received Grosse's replies. Rue admitted in his "interview" with the Hamburger Nachrichten that he worked as a spy for two countries simultaneously, and there is nothing unlikely in the theory that after denouncing Mr. Stewart to the German police in August he undertook the instructing of Grosse at Portsmouth in October and November.

TELEGRAMS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

THE STRIKE CRISIS.

MENTING TRANSIT DIFFICULTIES.

LONDON, March 12th.

The police have authorised the tram to carry 15 persons in excess of the number usually and the busses to carry five extra.

The Miners' Federation has unanimously decided to accept the Premier's invitation to meet the owners.

Reuter's correspondent at Essen telegraphs that there is an indication that the strike is falling. The average percentage of strikers is 34, while many mines are at full strength.

The French miners have gone on strike for a day to call their Government's attention to their grievances.

Shipping everywhere is being more and more thrown into confusion. There are 200,000 tons which cannot be handled on the Tyne. Advantage is being taken of the occasion to get the vessels in proper trim.

The sailings of the St. Paul and the Oceanic from Southampton have been cancelled.

The big industrial concerns are anxiously awaiting the result of to-night's meetings. If they are unfavourable the lines to the Colonies, which have up till now not been affected beyond ordering the strictest economy, will be compelled to consider the limitation of services.

The cruise of the Home Fleet towards Berhaven has been cancelled on account of the coal strike.

SHIPPING DISLOCATED.

Shipping everywhere is being more and more thrown into confusion. There are 200,000 tons which cannot be handled on the Tyne. Advantage is being taken of the occasion to get the vessels in proper trim.

The sailings of the St. Paul and the Oceanic from Southampton have been cancelled.

The big industrial concerns are anxiously awaiting the result of to-night's meetings. If they are unfavourable the lines to the Colonies, which have up till now not been affected beyond ordering the strictest economy, will be compelled to consider the limitation of services.

The cruise of the Home Fleet towards Berhaven has been cancelled on account of the coal strike.

AUSING A PRIVILEGE.

Hundreds of poor people, with the permission of the land-owner, the Duke of Norfolk, have been digging coal cropping out in the streets and waste ground of Sheffield. Nine were injured by subsidence. The colliers yesterday drove away the diggers and sold the coal to the works at a high price. The Duke of Norfolk has rescinded his permission.

LATER.

Reuter's correspondent at Essen wires that the Essen absentees from the afternoon shifts swelled the ranks of the strikers to sixty per cent. The police, in attempting to disperse the strikers at the pit heads at Hamborn and Bruckhausen were stoned. They charged in batches, wounding many of the strikers and making numerous arrests.

LATER.

It is understood that the South Wales coal owners will participate in the conference, which will probably be held on Wednesday.

The fact that Mr. Asquith has fixed no Government business for Thursday is believed to indicate that the Government, failing a settlement on Wednesday, will submit a resolution that it is desirable that all coal-owners should accept the minimum wage as a preliminary to the introduction of the Bill.

THE POLAR EXPEDITIONS.

CAPTAIN AMUNDSEN'S STORY.

LONDON, March 12th.

The Daily Chronicle's continuation of Captain Amundsen's story says that alcohol was barred on the journey to the Pole, but the provisions were the best and the most satisfying.

Captain Amundsen does not expect to return to Europe for a long time, as he says he must work in the Arctic. He is presenting 21 dogs to the Mawson Expedition. He says that Haakon Plateau is not the same as that which Sir Ernest Shackleton named King Edward Plateau.

The Royal Geographical Society has cabled congratulations to Captain Amundsen.

THE SUFFRAGETTES.

LONDON, March 12th.

Mrs. Pankhurst is ill, suffering from bronchitis.

The suffragettes who have been sentenced to hard labour are refusing to take any food in prison.

HOME RULE PROSPECTS.

LONDON, March 12th.

Mr. Asquith has announced that he will introduce the Home Rule Bill in the week in which Parliament assembles after Easter.

INTERNATIONAL FOOTBALL.

LONDON, March 12th.

The international Association game played between England and Wales at Wrexham resulted in a win for the former by two goals to nil.

THE SUNKEN SUBMARINE.

LONDON, March 12th.

The submarine A 13, which was sunk in collision off the Isle of Wight last month, has been raised.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

LONDON, March 12th.

It is anticipated that the Home Rule Bill will be introduced on April 11th.

THE HONGKONG UNIVERSITY.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM JAPAN.

The following telegram was received at the opening ceremony of the Hongkong University from the University of Tokyo: "University, Hongkong: Cordial congratulations—HAMAO, President."

UNIVERSITY ENDOWMENT FUND.

In the Statement giving the "Present Position, Constitution, Objects and Prospects" of the Hongkong University, the position of the Endowment Fund is summarised as follows:—

Chinese subscriptions	$751,173
British and others—in the East	144,660
British—at Home (£870 13 0)	9,421
Promised by John Swire & Sons	487,143
and allied firms £40,000 @ 1/9	487,143
Interest, etc.	508,464 (less $2,250 expenses)
Total	$1,420,099

* Includes salary of Registrar, and grant of $1,000 to College of Medicine and fee to draftsman of Ordinances, $500.

Of this sum $187,000 is hypothecated to Scholarships, the interest on which will accrue to the University (in lieu of the scholar's fees) whether a scholar has been nominated to the scholarship or not. From it must also be deducted the sums necessary for the Furnishing and Equipment, and the building of the students' quarters, but when the quarters are occupied the rent will provide interest on the loan.

THE BAZAAR.

As a revenue-producing venture, the Bazaar, organised for the express purpose of augmenting the Endowment Fund, did not come up to expectations on Monday. The first day's receipts totalled $7,000, but, as the attendance was comparatively small, the result must be deemed fairly satisfactory. It transpires that the reason why the Chinese did not patronise the bazaar more freely was that they were under the impression that entrance to the grounds could be only secured by invitation. Admission to the Great Hall, during the opening ceremony, was, of course, by invitation, but the Chinese people were under the impression that admission to the grounds was also by invitation. Colour was lent to this idea by the action of the attendants at the main exit. A large number of Chinese journeyed out to the university by tram, and as the exit was the first gate which confronted them, they naturally wished to enter through it. The attendants had received instructions to allow no one to enter by that gate, and they naturally endeavoured to set the erring ones right. In the majority of cases, they were misunderstood, most of the Chinese taking it that they could not enter without an invitation, and so retraced their steps.

Yesterday's attendance was, however, far more satisfactory in point of numbers and possibly the financial returns will show corresponding benefit.

The patronage extended to the Bazaar to-day should be larger than on the opening days for the Chinese Committee yesterday devoted their energies to correcting the misunderstanding which caused disappointment to so many of their countrymen and countrywomen on Monday.

SANITARY BOARD.

A meeting of the Sanitary Board was held yesterday. There were present Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe (President), Hon. Mr. E. A. Hewett, C.M.G., Hon. Mr. C. Chatham, C.M.G., Director of Public Works, Dr. Fitzwilliams, Col. Irwin, Dr. F. Clark (Medical Officer of Health), Dr. W. W. Pearce (Assistant M. O. H.), and Mr. Gibson (Acting Secretary).

The following questions were submitted by Dr. Fitzwilliams:—

- 1.—How many public vaccinators are employed in Hongkong and Kowloon?
- 2.—How are they paid?
- 3.—How many extra men are employed during epidemic time?
- 4.—What steps are taken to enforce vaccination in schools and amongst Government employees?

The answers of the President were as follows:—

- 1.—In addition to the private vaccinators, of whom there are 26 in the local register, and the Government medical officers, civil, military and naval, who number about 22, there are 30 public vaccinators working in the Colony.
- 2.—Public vaccinators at the dispensaries and Chinese hospitals are paid out of the Chinese Public Dispensaries Fund, or the Tung Wah Hospital fund. The remainder are paid by Government.
- 3.—Two extra vaccinators have been recently appointed, one for Victoria and one for Kowloon.
- 4.—A memorandum for school teachers was issued some time ago—in 1909—calling attention to the necessity of re-vaccination, but no compulsion is used among Government servants. Re-vaccination during periods of epidemic is recommended and encouraged as much as possible. During non-epidemic times, vaccination is done, if necessary, before the annual medical certificate of fitness is given.

Dr. FITZWILLIAMS mentioned—Of the Chinese public dispensaries in Victoria, public dispensaries in Victoria, two at least out of the four have no attached vaccinators.

The President, if you wish to speak to these questions, No. 1, I only want to thank you for the information you have given me.

The President informed the members that the first rat campaign of the year began during February, and since that time up to the beginning of the present month, the number of rats killed had steadily increased.

THE SITUATION IN CANTON.

Our Canton correspondent writing at midnight on Monday, says:—

This has indeed been a strenuous week-end for the City of Rams, and at the present moment, though the Governor is having a parley with the insurrectionists things are not by any means too hopeful. Besides Luk, there is another pirate chief, Wong, in command of a considerable number of men, up against the powers that be, and between them they have been if anything more successful than the loyal troops. Some time ago a large number of new brothels, which are situated at the East end of the Bund, were emptied, and used as a sort of barracks by the Government; these were the scene of fighting this afternoon, and the robber-troops having been successful, they set fire to the buildings and they are still blazing. On all hands it is recognised that the Government are in a very tight corner, and it is questionable if they will get out of it satisfactorily. It is understood that just now they are offering those troops who refuse to be disbanded $15 a head to lay down their arms and return to their homes, and if these terms are not accepted to-morrow nothing is more certain than that there will be a continuation of hostilities. Since three o'clock this afternoon there has been little or no firing heard, and it is to be hoped that negotiations have been successful in bringing matters to a peaceful conclusion.

It was rather funny to-day to see the effect which the clearing of the Vigilante for action had upon the sampans and the craft in the Defence Creek and in the near vicinity. These boats, as soon as the guns were slewed round, and the crews took up position, scampered off in scores across the river to Honam, and left the entrance to the creek entirely empty.

This afternoon a band of troops loyal to the Government, to the number of about 700, passed along Sha Kee, past Shamshu. They were neither too well clothed nor too well armed, and a noticeable feature was that quite a number of the antiquated long rifle, carried by two men and used on a tripod, were in evidence.

The streets in the vicinity of the band from Shamshu right along to the East are mostly closed, and all shops of any consequence are shut up and barricaded. The fear of all householders and shopkeepers is that the pirates may be successful enough to start looting, when matters will indeed be serious as their ranks are bound to swell by the good-for-nothing loafers, of whom there are only too many in Canton.

FIGHTING AT SWATOW.

There has been some severe fighting in the vicinity of Swatow during the past week between the Cantonese troops and the Swatow troops. At one time there was danger that the city of Swatow would be attacked, but we learn that the Consuls made it known to both factions that an attack on Swatow would head to the landing of foreign troops. There are six small foreign ships of war at Swatow now, and the Japanese ships have landed guards for the protection of Japanese property in the Settlement. Large numbers of wounded have been coming into Swatow, and it is noteworthy that many of them have shot wounds in the back, showing that they were fired at while fleeing. We gather that the Cantonese troops have gained the upper hand in the engagements.

EARLDOM OF FIFE.

SUCCESSOR SAID TO BE EX-AUSTRALIAN POLICE OFFICER.

An interesting situation arises over the succession to the title held by the late Duke of Fife. By the special provisions of the letters patent of 1900 Her Highness Princess Alexandra of Fife now succeeds her father, and becomes Duchess of Fife in her own right. But the Fife earldom in the Irish peerage, created in 1789 and held by the late Duke, takes a different course, and apparently descends to a representative of the family in Australia. A grandson of the original holder of the title was the Rev. George Duff, D.D., who had a son, Colonel George Duff, of the East India Service. Colonel Duff married a Miss Hayter, and left an only son, Jekyl Chalmers Duff, of Warranool, who seems to inherit the titles of Baron Braco, Viscount Macduff, and Earl of Fife. It is an old fact that the dormant viscounty and earldom are not in the peerage of Scotland, but in that of Ireland, and none of the holders of the title have ever owned an acre of land in Fife. The heir was for some time connected with the police service in Australia, and was said to have been well acquainted with the claim, which, however, has still to be proved. Apparently no property goes with the title, and the peerage does not carry the right of a seat in the House of Lords.

THE CHINESE IN THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.
HOW TO CHECKMATE THEIR LABOUR COMBINATION.

A writer to the Pinang Gazette discusses means of checking the increasing aggressiveness of the Chinese labour elements in the Straits as follows:—
The recent outrages which have been committed by Chinese coolies on more than one estate in this country, the truculent attitude displayed by singelis in Singapore lately, together with a number of minor incidents, only serve to show in which way the wind is blowing—in other words, that the lower class Chinese is getting too big for his shoes.
A correspondent from Kuala Lumpur informs us that the Chinese dhobies have combined there, and resolved to wash not by the customary monthly wage but piece by piece (5 cents each piece, big or small), with the result that prices have rocketed up, and the dhoby account has become one of the most formidable items in the home account. Argument has been expended in vain. When John Chinaman has made up his mind to do something, that something, as Lord Morley would say, becomes a "settled fact." We might call it Chinese cussedness or pigheadedness or by any name we like, but the fact remains that it is very inconvenient for the victims, unless they have a "second fiddle to their bow." On a solitary estate or, for the matter of that, on any estate at all, the inconvenience caused by these characteristics of John Chinaman become intensified, and many planters, if they could, would consign the Chinaman to limbo.

Unfortunately, at present, we are dependent to a great extent on Chinese for our labour supply, and though planters may rave against the expense of employing a large amount of Chinese labour there is, for the present at any rate, in some places, no help for it.
The question naturally arises:—Will we, in the future, have to rely for our labour on our estates more and more on the Chinese, or shall we be able, in time, to dispense with his services? It is a serious question and the solving of the problem will depend very much on ourselves.
Should the Chinese preponderate out of proportion to the other labour supplies in this country, we can rest assured these men will take every advantage of their position and numbers to put up wages, which would become a most serious matter if the price of rubber went down.

What then should be our object whereby to checkmate Chinese combination? The answer is simple. We should endeavour in season and out of season to secure all the Indian labour we can. It may be contended that the supplies of these are already coming in well, but are they sufficient to show the Chinaman that he is not the only "pebble on the beach"?
There is no doubt that the policy of Government in regard to Indian labour, the treatment generally on estates, the housing and medical attendance, are all more or less satisfactory, and though some critics have condemned what they term a "coddling" policy, no one will gainsay that Government and planters are working on the right lines.

What we should like to see, however, is that planters go over the recruiting ground themselves, see the coolies in their own country and speak to them. It would, we think, create a great bond of sympathy and induce many in a hesitating frame of mind to come over. With the present facilities of travelling in South India this should not be a very difficult matter.
A good cinematograph show, depicting coolie lines, hospitals and Tamil coolies on F.M.S. estates, should produce a good effect on the Coast, so far as recruiting went.

This article is not written with the object of driving out the Chinaman entirely from our estates, but in view of recent events and Chinese machinations, and the danger of wages rising still higher in the future, it should be the policy of every estate to see that Chinese labour does not preponderate and this can only be prevented by a fixed determination to practically flood the country with Indian labour—whether it be Tamil, Telugu, or Uriya.

It is not only sufficient just to get over Indian labour. Every endeavour should be made to procure families, so that in course of time the children could step into their parents' shoes. Every Indian native boy and girl is an important unit on the estate, and with the training they receive must become invaluable. Family labour is what we want. In coming years—when in all probability, the price of rubber goes down, the family labour will not only prove a factor in the reduction of expenses but will ensure a continuity of Indian labour, and do away with the necessity of leasing so much, as we now have to do, on John Chinaman. Let the Chinese form a reserve force: by all means, but they must be in the minority.

INTIMATION

THE Remington Typewriter

IS THE PERPETUAL PIONEER

The No. 10 and No. 11 VISIBLE REMINGTON MODELS are the latest expressions of Remington leadership. They represent the sum total of all typewriter achievement—past and present.

They contain every merit that the Remington has always had, and every merit that any writing machine has ever had.

They contain, in addition, new and fundamental improvements that no typewriter has ever had; among them the FIRST COLUMN SELECTOR, the FIRST BUILT-IN TABULATOR and the FIRST KEY-SET TABULATOR. These improvements are the latest contributions to typewriter progress, and they are Remington contributions—every one.

The Remington, the original pioneer in the typewriter field, is the present day pioneer in all new developments of the writing machine.
